To Whom It May Concern:

It is an honor for me to be writing this letter in reference to Ben Rimes. I have been working with Ben for the past two years in the Pathwise Mentoring Program as his mentor. The program is an in-depth training/planning program for new teachers entering our profession. They are asked to do many different and sometimes difficult tasks throughout the two years. Ben has done an exceptional job in all areas.

Although our mentoring partnership was a little different than most because he is not a traditional classroom teacher, it was very successful. I observed Ben in both a fifth grade setting and a second grade setting. He was successful in both. Many of the assignments that Ben completed had him reflecting on the lessons that he taught. He continued to strive to improve his plans and work for deeper understanding of his students. I have thoroughly enjoyed mentoring Ben and have been impressed by his hard work and dedication to the Pathwise program, as well as the teaching profession.

Sincerely,

Vicki Kasperski
